FAMILY SELF-SUFFICIENCY NEWSLETTER
OCTOBER– DECEMBER 2015

“Follow your passion, be prepared to work hard and sacrifice, and, above all, don't let anyone limit your dreams.”

Donovan Bailey

From the Office

The days of summer are slowly ending, and the sun is a golden almost cold-like color. The drought in California transitions summer into a warm humid autumn season. Each morning, I look up into the skies hoping that today will be the start of a long raining season to fill our lakes, rivers, and streams with fresh flowing water.

Unlike the seasons, some things here with the FSS program at HACB are unchanging. A friendly reminder that if you are currently not working, starting a business, or in post-secondary training or certificate program, you are responsible to submit four job activities to me every month.

Please make sure to submit your quarterly report to me. If I do not receive one from you, I may contact you.

In addition, if you received a letter for an annual review, please contact me to set up an appointment.

Job Search Tip: Create a Professional Email

Creating a professional-looking email is an important feature on your resume. Here are some tips on what to avoid and how to create a professional email.

Using your name is your safest bet

An email such as jane.doe@email.com is more professional than hottie.jane@email.com or iloveapples@email.com; unless your email address is directly related to your business or organization.

Pick an email address that you can stick with

Select one domain, and use the sorting/filtering feature to managed your emails versus having multiple accounts.

Avoid references to race, creed, gender, religion, health status, or anything wild in your email address

An email address such as ilovebuddha@email.com may offend individuals who do not have the same religious beliefs as you do. Select a neutral email address.

Avoid very long or typo-prone emails

Avoid using numbers in your email address when possible, or make a distinction between ambiguous characters. For example, employers might not know if jane00@email.com contains two zeros or two o's.

Keep your email address simple

If your name is long and/or often misspelled, only include the first few letters of your name. For example, jonathan.applegate@email.com may be shortened to j.Applegate@email.com to create a more simple, straight-forward email address.
